Dear Peter,

The consultation hub page for Public consultation on proposed amendments to the Poisons Standard - ACMS/ACCS/Joint ACMS-ACCS, June 2022 has now been updated for the first tranche of publication of the submissions.

All voting responses (along with a tally for each substance) have been published where permission was granted. In addition, all written responses about the MDMA and psilocybin proposals that were provided in PDF format, or were submitted as free text through the consultation portal form on behalf of organisations, have been published (if the respondent gave permission).

All remaining written components about MDMA or psilocybin from individuals will be published at a later date once we have had the opportunity confirm they are suitable for publication.

Kind regards,

Ben Noyen
