

To The Therapeutic Goods Administration

I am writing in response to the TGA Consultation of "Low Risk Products", specifically with regards to Homeopathy (page 46-49). Homeopathy has been safely and effectively used for thousands of years, its use must be preserved as a right for all people. Many countries (for example India) use Homeopathy in conjunction with conventional medicine to provide citizens with the very best health care. My family have used Homeopathy safely for many years; it is a treatment that does not have the worrying safety concerns of many allopathic medicines. I object to changing regulations regarding Homeopathy, I object to Option 3 and 4 in the Consultation.

Thank you for your consideration.
